Three Quarters of a Million of Dollars Worth of Property Burned in New York Yesterday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The smoking ruins of the burned Broadway stores attracted crowds of lookers-on this morning. Near the alley on some timbers leaning against the party wall of No. 388 Broadway, was discovered the body of Fireman Dougherty lying flat on its back, when it was soon dragged from the ruins. The face was unrecognizable, and head and arms charred; the trunk was comparatively unharmed, but the feet were burned off, and the legs were like lumps of hardened coal. A careful scrutiny of the ruins revealed no trace of Cassidy, his missing comrade, but it is thought his body will certainly be found under the timbers. These cannot be removed until the debris has sufficiently cooled to allow bracing of the hanging wall on the north side, which treatens to fall every moment.

Under the mass of the ruins lie also three large safes of the firms that occupied the building. Upon the recovery of these depend a full estimate of the losses, which can now only be approximated. Mr. Hazen, of the firm of Hazen, Todd & Co., state that their loss would certainly approach, if not exceed, $350,000. This amount is fully insured. Ruffler & Co.'s loss is estimated at $300, 00. Jas. Wilde, Jr., & Co. had just moved into the building, and cannot estimate their loss, but it will exceed $100,000. An offer of $265,000 was recently refused for the building. It is fully insured, and will be immediately rebuilt.

The origin of the fire remains to complete the mystery. Mr. Hazen, of the firm of Hazen, Todd & Co., said this morning that the boiler and engine were in the rear part of the building in the sub-basement, and at half-past 5 o'clock he, with other members of the firm and some of the employees, went to the main floor and were sitting in the rear talking, when suddenly and without warning, a rush of black thick smoke came up the rear stairway and filled the room. "We barely escaped with our lives," said Mr. Hazen. The engineer below got out under the grating and was saved.

France and Ireland.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A Paris dispatch to the London Times says, The Arch-Bishop of Bordeaux in forwarding five hundred francs to the Catholic Arch-Bishop of Dublin, says: "France and Ireland are inseparable names, recalling community of faith and long standing exchange of sympathy."

The Pistol at Work Again.

VICKSBURG, Feb. 21.—Thomas J Bolton, Jr., of Bolton's depot, shot and killed Leonard M. Clarke and his brother Douglas Clarke, last night. The fight began between Bolton and Douglass Clarke. Leonard Clarke in coming out of the theatre saw Bolton shooting at his brother and ran up and grasped the pistol in Bolton's hand. Bolton resisted, and in jerking the pistol from Clarke's grasp, shot him. Neither of the Clarke's were armed. Bolton was captured this morning near Edwards. The excitement is intense.

The Fire Record.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 21.—A destructive fire occurred at Batesville yesterday, originating in Clapp & Co.'s grocery which, with Adler's three-story brick store, J. R. Taylor's dwelling, Taylor & Heckerson's and W. Y. Cough's storehouses, were destroyed. The wall of Adler's building fell on the warehouse owned by U. C. Smith, instantly killing C L. Gorsuch and wounding Thomas Jablin and E. W. Morefield, the former fatally. Others were slightly injured.

The Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights of Honor lost all their furniture and regalia. The losses are $70,000, half covered by insurance.

More About the M. E. Accident.

CINCINNATI, February 21.—Mrs. Caldwell and Mr. Wiley, who were injured in the railroad accident near Jacobsburg station, died yesterday. Hon. Lorenzo Danford's condition is considered critical. A man named Jones, while working at the scene of disaster, fell from the trestle and received fatal injuries.

As far as heard from fourteen of the delegates are instructed to vote for Grant, and twenty-one favor Grant. Two are opposed to Grant, and two are opposed to the third term. Only one publicly favors Conkling; fifteen are uninstructed. Of these two oppose Sherman; three favor Grant as first choice; Blaine, second.

A JOKE ON THE POLICE.

Mischievous Youngsters Leave a Stuffed Figure and Have Some Fun.

Philadelphia Times.

Yesterday afternoon, about dusk, some mischievous youngsters rigged up a "dummy" representing a man and deposited it in a barrel on a pier, near Willow street wharf, on the Delaware front. Everything being in readiness the party dispersed to the shelter of adjacent lumber piles to await results. A solitary Sixth district policeman came sauntering down Delaware avenue. To him hastened one of the conspirators, in whose countenance alarm was plainly depicted. He told the patrolman there was a dead man in a barrel over on the wharf. The policeman hastened to the spot, and, taking a cursory view, wheeled and ran with all his might to the station house, where he communicated the horrifying things to the sergeant. The latter speedily repaired to the river and examined the supposed corpse in the presence of quite a crowd, who had by this time inspected the thing for themselves. The sergeant looked at it, poked it with his club, pulled it out of the barrel, turned it over, looked at it again, prodded it in the place where ribs ought to have been but were not, scanned the papier-mache countenance, and then burst out with Sir Joseph Porter's memorable remark. The crowd burst into a guffaw, "Sold!" that was audible at Vine street. The boys had fun afterward in kicking the "dummy" around the wharf.

The sergeant and his men marched off, repeating the chorus from "The Pirates of Penzance:"

Taking one thing in consideration with another,
—Ration with another,
The policeman's lot is not a happy one
—Not a happy one.

But before that the news had been sent to the Central Station, notifying the Coroner that an unknown man had been found dead on the wharf.

The Rev. Mr. Hayden's Tribute to His Wife.

From his Hartford Lecture.

I have thought it better to make very little allusion to my own personal experience in this matter of circumstantial evidence, but I should be making too great a sacrifice to my sense of propriety if I did not speak. I speak most warmly and tenderly of one incident of that experience. I have children whose welfare and honor are very dear to my heart, and a wife whom I regard with not only a tender, but a worshipping affection. That wife knows me thoroughly. She knows not only what is best in me, but all that is weak and human. She knows that I am innocent. When other hearts have quailed, hers has not. When the storm broke heaviest she only stood by the closer. There was nothing that she would not suffer for me, and nothing that she would not do for me, except to perjure herself to save me; with all her love, she would not have done that. She loved me with all her heart but she feared God more.

This wife, so true, so brave, unwearied in her devotion, represents to me the devoted wives of other men who, in their innocence, have been accused of crime. These children of mine represent to me the children of those innocent victims of the law and of its errors, and when I see what it would be to me to look from the scaffold upon the agony of such a wife and children as mine, and to have to rank, at that last dreadful moment, of the inheritance of disgrace that I was leaving to them—alas! the only inheritance—I can realize something of the refined torture to which such unfortunate men are subjected, and something of what the hearts are into which both the sense of wrong and the disgrace have sunk, each intensifying the other. And though the innocence of the dead husband and father may be discovered, no empty parade of honors to his memory can recall the agony of his last hours, nor the darkened years that have passed over his household.

WASHINGTON.

A LETTER FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

What Congress has Been Doing---The North Carolina Delegation--Other Items from the Capital.

Correspondence of the NEWS.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—Excuse my long silence; hope nobody's suffered; been busy; do better hereafter.

In Congress things have dragged along at a dreadfully slow and dull rate; particularly so this is true as to the Senate. Day after day the prosy old curmudgeons read somniferous essays—called by courtesy "speeches"—to which nobody listens, on themes in which but few are interested; and matters progress in a manner generally which must make the spirits of the "good old days" (when the American Senate was, as truly said by one of the most eminent men of his time when asked about it, on returning to his European home, "like an assemblage of Kings!") wail and gnash their teeth. That is to say if ghosts have teeth.

Occasionally a live man like Gordon—brilliant, eloquent and true;—or Ransom, whom your readers so well know as the peer, in all respects, of any Senator; or that sturdy and pure Democrat (whose seat will soon be occupied by the "mousing owl," Garfield,) Thurman, of Ohio; or the learned and ratting Jones, of Florida, (who to the casual observer don't "pass for what he is worth;") or even John Logan, will throw a little life into the tiresome and tedious monotony which prevails

The wish has often been expressed that your other Senator (Vance) would "shake up things" now and then. His "few remarks" at the extra session created a great desire amongst strangers and all to hear him again; but he has been laboriously and almost continuously engaged on committee work during this session, and perhaps the occasion has not yet come for him to 'open.' When it does, North Carolinians may erect their crests, curl their caudal appendages, crow loud and step high! Your State has, so far as I have been able to see and learn, leaving out the Yeates-Martin case, which is likely to result in the triumph of right and justice by giving Major Y., the seat to which he was elected, nothing to be ashamed of in her Senatorial or House representatives; with the single and abominable exception of the Wilmington district. Personally, I neither can or would not say aught against Judge Russell; but politically—oh! the shame and degradation, the deep and mortifying regrets that the people of the whole State, of the whole country, I might say, feel as they see the glorious old Cape Fear district represented by a deep-dyed, negro-elected radical! Shame! shame!

Where is the gallant and gifted Waddell? Left at home, solely and entirely by the apathy and over-confidence of those who should have been constantly at work for him. It is their fault, not his.

Will they not, in justice to one of the noblest and most deserving of North Carolina's many great and worthy sons, atone for their disastrous error by nominating and electing him to the next Congress? I have cause to know something of the high degree of esteem in which he was held here during the eight years of his Congressional career. Not only congressionally or officially; but personally and socially he was, and yet is looked upon as a brilliant and able representative and a model gentleman.

Let the old Cape Fear legions rally to his support: no better, abler, truer or more worthy representative did they ever, or can they ever have. And that's saying a very great deal, for in the glorious history of our glorious South—no section stands forth with brighter and more unfading escutcheon than what is now known as the Wilmington district of North Carolina. There now! I've wanted to say it for a long time—and I've said it, And it's all true as "words from Holy Writ." And Alfred Moore Waddell must come back to Congress, if justice be not forever dead.

It's not always dull and drowsy over in the House; indeed that howling assemblage would generally keep anybody awake who was not raised in a boiler—rivetting, or bell-testing, or bass-drum making or locomotive-whistle concocting establishment. But no one knows what's going on, except a huge "racket;" and soon, to a quiet and peace-loving man like myself, the eternal din and endless row grow so utterly unendurable, that a rush to more congenial regions it the only resort. If the people could all come here and look at things for a while, as I have tried to, I am not sure that their conclusion would not be: "It's a great pity that 'them Britishers' didn't whip us in '76 and thereafter."

That handsome nuisance, Acklen, of Louisiana, is, as your readers know, in more trouble. Now it looks rather serious for him; but his friends and admirers claim that it is "brass," his personal attractions, his money, his various other admirable perquisites; (his influence with the female portion of Congress, for instance,) will carry him through this, as they have through other difficulties. I "marked him well" as the debate on his case progressed yesterday. He had not that defiant and indifferent look which he usually wears; but gave signs of doubt and trouble as to the result of things. He parts his hair so nearly in the middle, and as even as if nothing else were charged against him to cause respectable and God-fearing men to doubt his integrity!

Our erratic friend, Major Badger, as the telegraph has informed you, was examined before the Voorhees Exodus committee on yesterday. He refused to be sworn upon the Bible, but manufactured a rather pleasant-looking oath for himself, upon the strength of which he made some statements altogether truthful and highly creditable to him and to his State. But he wandered astray occasionally, and said some things which he should not have said. "Dick" is a good fellow, and "of noble lineage sprung," but when he said "negroes charged with larceny could not have a fair trial in North Carolina," he did himself and his people a gross injustice.

Altogether, this "Exodus" investigation has been highly advantageous and creditable to the State. Windom is dreadfully cut down and disappointed; his expectations of what would grow out of the Voorhees bill have faded away—and, whatever may have at first been thought of the propriety of the measure, all Democrats are highly elated at the "dreadful revelations." The "Tall Sycamore of the Wabash" knew what he was about—and the Democracy owe a debt which they could not more properly or honorably pay than by insisting that his name should appear on the next National ticket. He is a noble and gallant gentleman, and an able Senator—though he don't dress as well as he ought to!

Ingalls, who looks and acts more like a "black-runner" snake than any human being who ever came under my observation, has been "honorably acquitted" of the charges of bribery and corruption. This verdict can only be true or just in a relative or comparative view of the case. In Kansas, with the Pomeroy and Caldwell cases on record, the serpentine gentleman's election as Senator may have been as compared with their's, I mean—distinguishably fair and honest. But in localities where votes are not openly put upon the market, for "the longest pole to take the persimmons," it must ever bear an exceedingly dubious and uncanny look. It is not exactly in keeping with North Carolina ideas.

A cold, blustery, wintry day.
Health of the city good.
Roscoe Conkling kicked me on the shin to-day in passing out of a street car, whereupon I almost wished that poor little Sprague had pulled the trigger.

STATE NEWS.

WILSON.

WILSON, Feb. 20.—Charles T. Rountree, colored, highly respected by the citizens of this place, returned from Indiana this morning. Onh is way back to Wilson he was summoned to appear before the Exodus Investigating Committee, but after remaining several days in Washington was released without appearing before the Committee. He said that he spent twenty-four days in Indiana, and on his arrival in Indianapolis, he went in search of his friends from Wilson, who had gone there to get better homes and bigger wages. He was not long in searching before he met some of them on the streets, and learned from them that they were still looking for something to do, as they could not find homes or employment, And making enquiries about others who had gone from this section he learned that there were a great many men, women and children quartered in an old church in the city in almost a starving condition, and in going to the church he found that he had not been misinformed; that there were some thirty or forty men, women and children, and some of them really starving to death, others sick and helpless, with no clothing scarcely to wear These people were merely placed in this old church to get shelter, and that they had to depend entirely upon the charity of the citizens for what little bread they got to eat. A great many of the colored men on arriving in Indianapolis, having no home to go to or money to feed their nieces and children have left them to the charity of the world, and gone out week after week in search of work and at last returning to their wives and children without a place to take them to or a cent of money to buy them bread. Charles further says that when he left Wilson, he fully expected to make his future home in Indiana, but after going there and seeing things not as they had been represented to him he made up his mind to come back to North Carolina and tell his colored friends to stay at home. He says many who have gone to Indiana would gladly come back if they had the money to bring them. He said that all the cry about good homes and big wages was a mistake, that there were hundreds of the citizens of Indianopolas, both white and black now out of employment, willing to do anything just to get enough money to get the necessaries of life. Charles says he is going to tell the colored people to stay in North Carolina, tell them how everything is and then if they go, they will only have to share the fate of many of those who have already gone. THEO.

BUNCOMBE.

ASHEVILLE, Feb. 20.—Matters that I can think of worthy of narrating are for the present not very common in Buncombe. There is no exciting news afloat, everything seems to be at a perfect lull, and some say, this is a marked sign of prosperity, I know not how true this saying is, but from my observation I would say that the old county of Buncombe is a more buoyant condition now than it has been in for some years. What has produced this favorable change, there may be some difference of opinion about, but I suppose it is due to the fact that our region is becoming more developed to the world as the railroad approaches. There seems to be an inclination among business men of many other sections to come and settle among us, espe fially is this noticeable among that class of men known as 'tobacconists,' men who deal both in buying and manufacturing. Mr. Thomas, the most noted tobacconist of Richmond, Va., is soon to erect a manufacturing establishment here, But the thrift of Buncombe county is more largely confined to the village than shou d be. It is a noted fact, that through almost any county of the West that you please with the exception of Buncombe and you will see well kept farms, ornamented with a neat white house, scattered all about, but with a little town for a county seat.

As our reporter came along Water street last night, shivering with the chill night air, and drawing his overcoat tightly about him, he thought, "now is the time for colds and coughs," but if poor mortals only knew what a certain cure Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is, how few could long suffer, and then, it costs only twenty-five cents.—Sandusky (Ohio) Register.

Grant in Mexico.

Gen. Grant's visit to Mexico is said to have caused a great amount of scrubbing and cleaning up in that capital. The polite citizens are even furnishing up their English and their knowledge of the history of our great civil war; such little events have no histories in Mexico, being matters of every-day occurrence. The government, however, and especially the ayuntamiento (city council) of Mexico are much exercised over the probable cost of the coming receptions, the more so that just at present the country is on the eve of a Presidential election, when parties cannot afford to be extravagant.

Sentence of Rev. Edward Cowley.

NEW YORK, February 20.—Rev. Edward Cowley, late manager of the Shepherd's Fold, who was convicted in the General Sessions Court on Wednesday last for cruelly treating and starving children under his care in that institution, was arraigned again this morning for sentence. Recorder Smyth passed fitting remarks in justness of the sentence and its being warranted by evidence, and gave the extreme penalty of the law, one year in State prison and $250 fine, to stand committed to jail at the expiration of his sentence until his fine was paid, one day for each dollar. The prisoner was then taken to the Tombs. He took his sentence very quietly, keeping his eyes on the ground all the time. There are twenty-four other indictments against him, but it is believed that none of them will ever be brought to trial, and tha this was taken into consideration by the Recorder when he meted out full punishment to the prisoner. Application was made to Judge Lawrence, in the Supreme Court, this afternoon, by counsel of Rev. Mr. Cowley for a stay of proceedings in his case. The court refused to grant the stay, on the ground that no writ of error had been applied for or allowed.

EDISON'S MISTAKE.

HOW HE LET $15,000,000 SLIP THROUGH HIS FINGERS.

He Forgets That He Invented the Telephone a Month Ahead of Bell or Gray.

Philadelphia Record.

After all the wranglings and litigation between Bell and Gray as to the priority of the invention of the magneto-telephone, it now transpires, by the discovery of a misplaced document, that neither Bell nor Gray were the inventors of the first magneto-telephone on record. According to the records of the Patent Office, the first claim filed for a patent on a magneto-telephone was by T. A. Edison. Why this fact, involving $15,000,000, has not before been brought to light is an interesting bit of history, and may serve as an index to the eccentricities of genius and a fair illustration of the character of the famous wizard of Menlo Park. The story, as related by Edison to a Record reporter, is this:

In 1875 Edison, Bell and Gray were experimenting in acoustic telegraphy Neither of these three inventors, however, gave a public exhibition of their investigation until August, 1875, when Bell produced and exhibited his first exhibition.

In December of the same year Edison exhibited in Newark, N. J., an instrument of transmitting messages orally, and on the 14th of January, 1876, filed in the Patent Office at Washington his claim for a patent under the name of an acoustic telegraph, which, in fact, was a telephone. On the 13th of February, exactly one month later, Gray and Bell, by a singular coincidence, both filed their caveats on the same day for patents on telephones which they had invented, and these were the only telephones on record up to that time.

Mr. Edison at the time was in the service of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and so gave his claim to Messrs. Porter, Lowrey & Soren, attorneys for the Western Union Company, to file at Washington. This firm filed the papers, as already stated, but neglected to return to Mr. Edison the official acknowledgement of the receipt of the papers from the Patent Office.

The telephone at that time, like the phonograph of to-day, had no commercial value, because it was available for sending messages only a short distance, and, besides this its capacity for transmitting messages correctly was, at best, imperfect. Mr. Edison soon after this became interested in experiments which, after long months of hard labor, resulted in the production of the carbon button, that gave to the telephone its first commercial value, and without which it would be worthless. Being absorbed in other investigations, he says the fact of having filed his claim for his original magneto-telephone, or 'acoustic telegraph,' passed out of his mind entirely, and did not occur to him again until about three weeks ago, when Mr. Serrel, the regular attorney for Edison in his patent causes, returned to him a number of papers which had been turned over to Edison's lawyer by Messrs. Porter, Lowry and Sorren. Among these papers was the important one relating to his filing this claim for a patent on his original telephone,

Soon after his discovery of the carbon button, which was about two years ago, and about two years after his first discovery, Mr. Edison entered into an agreement by which he disposed of his right in the carbon button, and of any subsequent inventions which he might discover pertaining to the telephone, to the American Speaking Telephone Company. The latter corporation was composed of the Harmonic Telegraph Company, which had previously purchased Gray's patent, and the Gold Stock Board Telegraph Company, of New York. The American Speaking Telephone Company at once began manufacturing its instruments and putting them into service, using Edison's carbon button for the transmitters.

The carbon transmitter was acknowledged to be superior to that of Bell's, but soon after Edison's discovery of the carbon button, an inventor named Blake produced the microphone, a transmitter equal to, if not more powerful, than Edison's. The principle of the microphone, however, is the same as that of Edison's transmitter, and the latter claims that it was stolen from him.

Bell at once secured the right to use the Blake transmitter, and then instituted legal proceedings to restrain the American Speaking Telephone Company from the manufacture or sale of its telephone, claiming that it was an infringement of his patent. The result of this was a protracted litigation of nearly a year and a half as to which had priority of claim to the invention of the telephone. Bell or Gray, the latter's instrument being the one used by the American Speaking Telephone Company.

Both inventors had filed their claims on the same day—the 14th of February, 1876—at the Patent Office. Bell claimed that his caveat was filed an hour earlier in the day than Gray's. The question of priority of filing claims to the respective patents was thus narrowed down to almost a point of time, together with such other outside evidence as might establish the claim of the rightful patentee. Millions of dollars were involved in the controversy, and during it all Edison's caveat filed one month prior to the claim of either Bell or Gray, was stowed away in the Patent Office at Washington. The papers pertaining to it were in the hands of Porter, Lowery & Soren, the attorneys of the Western Union Telegraph Company, which company had purchased this and all other patents of Edison pertaining to the telephone, the Western Union being a part and parcel of the American Speaking Telephone Company.

Had Mr. Edison, or the company owning his patent, established the claim by proofs which have since come to light through the records of the Patent Office, and had he also been able to show that he had used proper diligence in putting his invention into practical operation, Bell and Gray would both have been annihilated, and millions of dollars would have been saved to the purchasers of his patent, as may be shown in the compromise which was afterward effected between the contesting parties. Rather than run the hazard of a legal decision of the question in controversy, a permanent compromise was effected between the litigants about six months ago, by the terms of which the Bell Telephone Company was to have the sale of all the instruments disposed of, and all the instruments in use by the American Speaking Telephone Company were to be turned over to the Bell Company, while in return the American Speaking Company was to receive 20 per cent. of the net proceeds derived from the rental of the instruments. This arrangement, however, did not apply to the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and San Francisco. In the four cities named the agents or owners of the franchise in each city were left to fight their own battles as best they could.

Within the last two weeks, however, another compromise has been effected with relation to Philadelphia, which gives to the Bell Telephone Company the exclusive control of all the instruments in use in this city, and there are over 1,000 in use. The effect of this arrangement will be to do away with the Telephone Exchange at Third and Chestnut streets, and consolidate it with that of the Bell Telephone Exchange at Fourth and Chestnut. The National Bell Telephone Company has recently obtained permission from the Legislature of Massachusetts to increase its capital from $3,000,000 to $15,000,000.

Edison's neglect to look after his telephone, and put it into practical operation may, therefore, be considered as a $15,000,000 mistake.

By. Tyre York for Secretary of State.

Salisbury Watchman.

During the Session of the Legislature last Winter the office of Secretary of State became vacant by the death of Major Englehard, and the friends of Dr. Tyre York, the able and efficient member of the House from Wilkes, prepared a petition to the Governor for his appointment to the unexpired term of this important office. This petition was signed by almost every member of the House and the great body of the Senate, besides many of the most influential gentlemen of the State. Yet the Governor appointed another to the place. The Representatives of the people in both branches of the General Assembly since the war need not be informed who Dr. York. That he has been one of the most zealous, efficient and untiring friends the people have ever had in the Legislature—both as Senator and Representative—no one familior with his course will deny. He is a gentleman of education, great familiararity with the wants of the people—a fine canvasser, and one of the most popular men in the State. He not only redeemed his county from the dominion of Radical Rule but his Senatorial District as well. He can beat any man in his section of the State for any place he asks at the hands of the people, and would in my opinion, add great strength to our State ticket if nominated for Secretary for State. His record as a public man, will show him to have been the unflinching friend of the over-burdened tax-payers of the State, on all occasions being opposed to high taxation, high salaries and fees, and in fact every measure that oppresses the people, or infringes upon their liberties. He is in fact, the people's man, and will do more to wip success for our ticket than any man in the State.

FORCED TO FAVOR GRANT.

What is Said to Have Resulted From Fear of Gov. Cornell's Vetoes in Brooklyn.

N. Y. Star.

Primaries were held in Brooklyn Friday night to elect delagates to the Assembly Conventions of Kings County, which, on February 25th, are to choose delegates to the State Convention. There was much excitement attending the primaries. Yesterday there was much activity displayed in the different wards to get delegates chosen in the interest of John Sherman, and rival tickets were put into the field at nearly all the polls. The control of the Conkling men over the machinery of the party in Brooklyn was so strong that the Sherman men were free to admit that they were serving a losing cause. The delegates chosen were for the most part for the choice of Conkling, with a sprinkling of Sherman and Blaine men among them, while a number were in favor of sending unpledged delegates were said to be almost solid for Sherman. The Sherman movement was strongest in the First and Second Assembly Districts, in both of which the dele ates were said to be almost solid for Sherman. The delegation elected by the Daggett influence in the Nineteenth Ward is also believed to be for Sherman, but its complexion has not yet been determined.

There were many Bryoklyn Republican leaders we said that they preferred any good man to Grant, and their hope was that the State Convention would send unpledged delegates to Chicago. There were, however, so many Brooklyn bills at Albany depending upon Governor Cornell's favor, that Brooklyn Republicans could only do as they were told to do, and this was to send a solid Grant delegation.

The Freedmen's Bank Investigation.

The Senate select committe on the Freedmen's Bank, on Friday examined Anson M. Sperry, general field agent and inspector of branches, who testified to the solvency of the bank, and to the marvelous increase of its business from the start up to 1874, the time of its failure. The deposits had grown from $3000,000 in 1866, $31,000,000 in 1872, and to $55,000,000 in 1874. He stated that the cause of the bank's failure was primarily the violation of the company's charter in entering a general business in the branches, which opened the doors to wild speculations in real estate, loans, and other doubtful securities. The worst complications and losses, he said, are from the operations in Washington. He had never known the bank to sustain a loss through the dishonesty of colored men in charge of any of the branches. Marshall Frederick Douglass, former president of the bank, resumed his testimony, from which it appeared that during his short administration he had been able to gain but little insight into the true inwardness of the concern. In explanation of the cipher dispatches which Mr. Douglass charged were purposely hid from him, Mr. Stickney, former actuary, stated that those dispatches were simply the ordinary precaution taken by the bank in its telegraphic communication with the branches, and that there was no concealment of them from the president or other officials who had the right to know and use them. The committee adjourned to Thursday next.

Then and Now.

A curious old bill has been found among the archives of the State House, which helps to show that Solomon was about right when he said there was nothing new under the sun. The bill is for entertaining the Council and House of Representatives on October 25, 1770, the eleventh anniversary of the accession of George III to the throne. The items of wine, punch and beer amount to sixty-five dollars, and that for "bisket and cheese" to only three dollars. Bills of a similar character are common to day when public officials meet together, and Falstaff's "half penny worth of bread to all this intolerable deal of sack" has often a practical illustration.

Two Organs.

Regulate first the stomach, second the liver: especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will receive at least nineteen twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.

Famine in Russia—Russia Demands the Extradition of Hartmann—Full Account of the Explosion.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.

PARIS, February 21.—The Temps publishes a letter from St. Petersburg, which says: "News from the interior of the Empire is heart-rending. Famine and diphtheria are decimating the population. The provinces of Saratof and Kief, which annually export, in ordinary times, enormous quantities of grain, had scarcely any crop last year. The calamity is aggravated by a want of fodder for cattle, peasants being forced to sell them.

In Caucasius the famine is still greater. The people are committing suicide and selling their children.

RUSSIA DEMANDS HARTMANN.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Times' Paris dispatch says the demand of Russia for the extradition of Hartmann, has been referred by Premier Freycinet to the Minister of Justice. It is stated that some of the reactionary deputies have applied for the man's release, but was told if it appeared that he was connected with the Moscow attempt, the government would surrender him to the Russian authorities.

ALL ABOUT THE ST. PETERSBURG EXPLOSION.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A special dispatch gives the following from the Standard's Berlin correspondence: Lately the Czar hardly ever left Winter Palace, and when he went abroad he was surrounded by a cloud of mounted officers, who concealed the carriage and protected the inmates with their bodies. In the Palace he was accessible only to diplomatists, dignitaries and officers.

At the chapel detectives occupied seats that were formerly reserved for distinguished visitors. The detectives infested the kitchen, and every dish was tasted by persons of rank specially selected for that purpose. The Emperor did not even venture to open his own letters, documents having repeatedly been steeped in poison and sent him.

With all these elaborate precautions, it occurred to nobody to search for the announced, advertised and placarded mine in the basement. The Emperor and the Duchess of Edinburg were seated in an apartment next to the dining room when they heard the report of the explosion. The lights were extinguished and the gas pipe burst. The Princess of Felcos and her valets went blindly through the dark and then poured promiscuously through the door of the royal apartments. The Sovereign was found groping his way out of the fatal quarter. All who saw the sight of the picture of Alexander XI leading his daughter away from the mine of dynamite, say it was one that could never be forgotten.

The Vienna Tagblatt relates that for some days past the Czar has daily received a sealed letter containing but few words of menace, and saying that if he did not change his system of oppression he would not live to celebrate the 25th anniversary of his accession. The sheet was always bordered with black. In court circles it was known as the black letter. All efforts to discover the person who conveyed it to the Emperor's room were unsuccessful.

SWORN IN AS A THIEF.

Oaths Taken in a Dark Cellar. Oscar Taylor's Experience as a Burglar.

New York Tribune.

Oscar Taylor, a young man arrested for a robbery committed at Alden, N. Y., is now confined in jail at Newburg. He has, since his arrest, given a history of his career in knaverb, which, considering its short duration—six months—has been unusually eventful. About six months ago he left Alden and came to New York. On his arrival here he fell in with a gang of thieves in a drinking saloon, and was induced without much persuasion to join them.

He was then conducted by two of their number, by many windiegs, to a narrow street. The leader suudenly darted into a narrow alley and the others followed. After passing through a yard they stopped before a door leading into a cellar. Three raps by the leader and the door was cautiously opened. This place Taylor describes as a thieves' rendezvous, containing everything necessary to the trade—burglars' tools, knives, pistols, jimmies and crucibles for melting down silverware. Here the newcomer was compelled to swear that he would never betray his comrades, the oath being administered by one of their number known as "Slippery Jim." The penalty for breaking the oath, they said in blood-curdling tones, was to be shot at sight. He was also instructed never to recognize any of the members of the gang in the street, and to always follow his conductor in silence until the cellar was reached.

Especial care was to be taken when they were under the eyes of the police or had any reason to suspect they were being watched. Taylor says he is not able to say how many men belong to the gang, as he never saw all of them at the same time. The only ones he knew by name were "Burglar Dick," "Slippery Jim," and his companion, George Scott, with whom most of his own robberies were committed. He was never able to go to the rendezvous without a guide, and when he was conducted there it was by a circuitous route. The method of operating practiced by the thieves was to go in pairs, taking different routes, into the interior of neighboring States.

During Taylor's connection with the gang he operated with George Scott. One of their first expeditions was to Pepperill, Mass., where he and his companion broke into a cutlery store and carried away $800 in costly pocket knives. Each of them packed his share in a valise and started on a tramp through the country to convert it into money on the road. At Rutherford Park, N. J., Taylor was arrested for pedling without a license, and gave as a pledge for the payment of his fine a number of the stolen knives. Through the agency of Officer Brown, detective for the Erie Railroad, it was discovered that the knife peiller was the thief who committed the roobery at Pepperill. Brown secured Taylor's photograph and began to look for him. This was about three months before his arrest.

Subsequent to the crime at Pepperill a number of robberies were committed by Scott and Taylor at Pine Bush, Passaic, Allendale, Buffalo, Albany, Paterson and other places. Scott always took an advantage of his companion's lack of experience by making him take charge of the plunder.

DAILY NEWS

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1880.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

HON. SAMUEL J. TILDEN sustained a severe fall Thursday by coming in contact with a messenger on the steps of the Third National Bank, on Nassau street.

THE quid nunes say that the Grant programme is that Senator Roscoe Conkling is to be made the permanent presiding officer of the National Republican Convention at Chicago.

WOMAN suffrage is up again in the New York State Legislature. Mr. Andrews' bill to forbid the disfranchisement of women at Presidential elections was introduced on Thursday. It provides that no person shall be debarred from voting for Electors of President or Vice-Presipent by reason of sex. Now, petticoatel primaries and calico caucus conventions will be in order.

IT will be curious to watch the decision of the House of Representatives in the Loring-Boynton case if General Butler's argument is to have weight. Butler claims that Boynton is elected because the illiterate citizens of the State, who would have voted for him, were debarred from so doing by what he considers unconstitutional electional laws. But, in thinking over the matter, the Democrats in the House will have to recollect that these same provisions that General Butler objects to are the very ones that the leaders of their party in South Carolina are now trying to incorporate into their electoral system. When the issue is thus presented, they may conclude that a maintenance of the party hold upon South Carolina is of more service than the seating in Congress for a few months of Mr. E. Moody Boynton.

WHILE Senator Conkling is annoyed by the opposition to the third-term candidate that has been developed in the Senator's own county, he may be consoled by the reflection that his most uncompromising enemy, George William Curtis, has similar trouble with his home folks. There was a straight-out fight in Richmond county between the Grant and the anti Grant Republicans, the latter headed by Mr. Curtis, and the Stalwarts secured three-fifths of the delegates to the State Convention. Mr. Curtis himself pulled through, but, like Mr. Conkling's, his seat will be contested. No doubt the Grant party made a special effort to carry the Curtis baliwick, for it is not often that such a struggle is carried on in country towns. Charges of corruption, as well as of undue official influence, are freely made by the anti-Grant people. For instance, it is alleged that in one town the vote at the primaries exceeded that cast for the Republican ticket at the late election by from twenty to forty per cent. All over New York the faction fight in the Republican party is going on with great bitterness, and there is reason to expect a very lively time if Conkling pushes his third-term proeramme at Utica—as he undoubtedly will.

THE high tariff journals are now realizing that "protection" is not an unmixed good. So long as the pressuro did not come home to them, as it is coming now in the recent heavy advane in the cost of printing paper, the tariff was altogether lovely, and the "American policy" was a piece of consummate statesmanship that ought under no circumstances to be questioned. It is their shoes that pinch now, and several of them are squealing- some in a mild, remonstrative sort of way, and others very lustily. A number of these newspapers have resorted to the expedient of shifting the burden upon their subscribers and advertisers, but this method is not entirely satisfactory. There are some thick and thin party organs that remain discretly silent, while a few are so pronounced in their loyalty to the "industrial interest" as to oppose a reduction of any imposts whatever—on paper or anything else; but, as a general thing, such protective-tariff journals as rely upon legitimate business rather than partisan subsidies for the means of support join with the revenue-tariff advocates in urging Congress to adopt measures for the relief of the press and the people by cutting down the 20 per cent. duty on printing paper to a reasonable figure.

THE EXTRA SESSION.

At last the decision is made and the legislature is called to meet in extra session. The constitution provides for biennial sessious but allows the Governor the power "on extraordinary occasions" to summon the legislature in extra session. In the opinion of the Governor and council such an emergency is now upon us.

Whatever reasons could be urged against the call for an extra session it is now futile to consider them. The call is made. We sincerely trust and hope that it may prove to have been wisely and prudently issued.

Had the course advised and insisted on by the NEWS a year ago been followed there would now be no necessi y to call an extra session to satisfy the popular opposition to the heavy railroad taxation by selling the road. The best thing that can now be done is of course to repeal the taxation at the earliest possible moment. As to a sale of the road on proper terms and guarantees being offered public sentiment will undoubtedly endorse a sale of the property to the end that our transmontane brethren can obtain the completion by other hands of their long looked for railroad.

A New Lecturer.

The lecture platform has received an addition in Mr Hayden, the Connecticut minister who was tried for his life in connection with the death of a young woman. He started out to tell the public what he knows about "circumstantial evidence." One part of the testimony at the trial referred to Mr. Hayden's work at piling cord-wood, but lecturing is easier, if not in such good taste on his part at this time; but as he may be tried again, he probably aims to break the force of evidence beforehand.

Treasurer Worth on the Situation.

Farmer and Mechanic.

Nearly 700 deeds for lands sold by the sheriffs for non-payment of taxes have already come into the Auditor's office this year. Yet it appears the taxes are not high enough, and there will be a deficit of nearly $240,000 for the next Legislature to meet! That is Treasurer Worth's statement, and he is not the man to handle words recklessly. And with this $240,000 of deficit, for which special taxes must be laid, is it any wonder, he remarked—"No Legislature will ever again make such appropriations to build railroads and support convicts."

Charles S. Prentice, of Toledo, O., went to Paris and thence to England to be treated for Bright's disease, and after the best physicians of both countries had done what they could for him, gave up in despair and returned to America to die. Here he received further treatment from other skillful physicians without benefit, and while "listlessly lingering in pain and anguish," he says, heard of the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, took it, and was completely cured in a few weeks. He gives circumstantial details of his painful experience and astonishing cure, in a long letter to H. H. Warner & Co., which will be forwarded on application.

Maud had a fine figure, good face and pretty name. One should see her at a distance. When she began to talk, you realized that she never used SOZODONT. Her breath was unlike the breezes of Araby the blest.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."
W. F BARR, M. D., Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anæmia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.
GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D., New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.
G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D., Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.
E. O. GRIGSBY, DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.

A Down-town Merchant.

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse: and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relives the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggist at 25 cents a bottle.

Answer this.

Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the Stomach, Liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure.—Ask your neighbor this same question.

The best thing you can do to relieve your little ones, if they have whooping cough, or cold on the lungs, is to use Cherokee Indian Cough Cure, made in Raleigh by Mrs. Nelson. Nearly 1000 bottles sold, and every body speaks of it in the highest terms. It is made from roots and herbs, and is good for every kind of cough, for the infant or adult.

A Paper for all classes of the People and in every Department of life.

Independent and Conservative.

THE SUN is conservative in politics, independent in non-sectarian. Its proprietors point to the principles that have governed it in the past as a guarantee of its course in the future. On all subjects of public interest it will continue to express its opinions, according to its best judgment, with a view only to the promotion of the best interest of the public. All the freshest news, at home and abroad, excluding only that which is prurient or sensational, is given from day to day in its columns. In addition to what is furnished by the Associated Press and by the local reporters of The Sun, no expense is spared to keep its special correspondence, that from Europe as well as from the Pacific Coast, and from its Washington Bureau abreast of the times, and to supplement it, as occasion may require, at every other point to which the current of events give prominence.

The Financial and Commercial Reports of The Sun contain at all times full and trustworthy accounts of all movements and operations in the leading markets, as well as that of Baltimore, with special telegraph service from New York of the latest stock and other transactions; while its reports of the ruling prices of breadstuffs, provisions, and other leading articles of trade and commerce, will embrace the latest intelligence, both at home and abroad, of each day's doings, up to the hour of going to press.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

MEDICINAL AND TOILET,

is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome skin and scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington street, Boston, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 3 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

A Rare Chance for Investment.

Wishing to give my whole attention to the lumber trade, in which I am about to engage on a larger scale than ever before, I offer for sale on terms to suit the times the following valuable property in Cary:

I.

MY PLUG TOBACCO FACTORY, in a BRICK building 50x80 feet, 3 stories high, the lower story being two large storerooms. The Tobacco Machinery is new and has a capacity of manufacturing 1,000 lbs. per day. The factory has been worked a year, and a good beginning for a trade has been made. The building and the machinery will be sold together, or separately to suit purchasers.

II.

GRAIN MILLS,

in a 3 story brick building, 28x40 feet. Two Wheat Mills and one Corn Mill, new and complete with a capacity for grinding 100 bushels of wheat and 100 bushels of corn a day, and can compete in quality of flour with any mills in the State. The mills have had a very large local patronage during the past year. They are driven by a 60 HORSE POWER STEAM ENGINE, improved, of the make of Talbott & Sons, Richmond.

Attached to the engine is also a 60 Saw COTTON GIN and power press, at a safe distance (about 100 feet) in a different lot. The engine has a brick smoke-stack 60 feet high, making the danger from fire the least possible and the rate of insurance very low.

III.

Several well built and handsome residences, with lots and gardens of about 1 acre to each dwelling. They are wooden buildings, 2 stories high, with from 5 to 7 rooms each situated in desirable locations in the village.

Besides these, 4 one acre lots, with cottage buildings of 2 rooms.

Preventive of Malarial Disease—Opinion of Eminent Dr. M. K. Walton, of Annapolis, Md.

Colden's Liebig's Extract of Beef is a most excellent preparation. It is par excellence. Superior to cod liver oil or anything I have ever used in wasted or impaired constitutions, and extremely beneficial as a preventive of malarial diseases.

THE NEW FRYER.

This useful invention meets a long felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes, and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a drainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.
